

An e-mail was sent to you when you joined or renewed your membership. It contains your login information for the members area of the website (username and password). If you are signed up for FSBA ezines by Dr. Malcolm, you also were notified in the ezines of the User Name and Password area.

Dear Colleague:

Thanks for joining (or renewing your membership) the Florida State Beekeepers Association (FSBA). We hope you will find your association with us profitable. Please visit our web site <http://floridabeekeepers.org>.

Dues-paying members are invited to subscribe to an electronic newsletter via http://floridabeekeepers.org. This list is closed to the general public and is used for occasional messages about Association activities. I am issuing you an invitation. Please look for it (it may be in spam or junk folders) and let me know that you have successfully subscribed. You must finish the subscription process from your e-mail account.

You can see recent postings at:

http://floridabeekeepers.org
http://floridabeekeepers.org
http://floridabeekeepers.org
http://floridabeekeepers.org

Also let me know if you would be willing to receive The Florida Beekeeper, the Association's quarterly newsletter, electronically as found at http://floridabeekeepers.org; instead of the paper edition, which is mailed to members. This will save the Association valuable funds over the long run and also is a "green" application that many are turning to in an effort to reduce environmental impact.

The Association now also has a Facebook presence: <http://www.facebook.com/FloridaBeekeepers>

Finally, the Association is implementing a "member-only" interface on its brand new web site at the traditional address <http://floridabeekeepers.org>, now being managed by Dennis Riggs of the Beekeepers Association of Southwest Florida. username and password . Note links to the Ezine postings are also found here, although they will not be e-mailed to you directly until you have successfully subscribed via http://floridabeekeepers.org.

Malcolm T. Sanford malcolm@floridabeekeepers.org
Executive Secretary
Florida State Beekeepers Association
Find us on Facebook
352-336-9744

If you did not get this e-mail notification when you either renewed your membership or when you joined the FSBA, and didn't otherwise obtain your LOGIN INFO for the members only area of our website, then please contact Dr. Sanford: